First of all you should check on Pinkie and see what happened to her. You know, she was the one who went insane and murdered Rainbow Dash.

I think the first order of business is to investigate Pinkie Pie or Rainbow Dash.
Well it's as good of a start as any. I don't feel anything off right now.

Ok, from this point you will likely find the point where the timeline split from where it was supposed to be directed. If I had to guess I'd say it would be something that affected Pinkie Pie since she showed the first signs of temporal change. Just pose as a customer getting a muffin and get a quick scan of her with the screwdriver when it starts to 'glitch'. If her mental state is different from what it should be, then we will know if you are far enough back in time.
One muffin, please. Cranberry coffee crumble.

Though it does seem it started going downhill after Rainbow Dash's death, it was Pinkie Pie who killed her. As well as several ponies before that. Pinkie going pyscho seems like the first thing in this universe to divert from normal.

"Slaughter Cube Corner" is it? Do be careful Doctor. From forensic details of the victims, they were drugged upon being captured by Pinkie Pie. Most likely a sedative strong enough to knock out a horse in a matter of seconds. Delivery likely to be juice or a cupcake. Do not accept any cupcakes.

Maybe you should keep an eye on pinkie, see when she starts acting out of character.

Why are we bothering with this again? Odds are there's nothing you can do, or you'll even make it worse! Leave it to someone else.
Don't worry, I'm just observing. I wont interfere unless I have to.

I guess if we're investigating this. Perhaps we should look into why she started these murders. Pinkie always did seem to have a sight beyond most. Maybe this sense had something to do with it? Such sensitivities could have made her vulnerable to any initial sources of bleed
PARCHMENT PALS
So far nothing has really seemed out of the ordinary, she's still the same headache inducing pink blob I remember.

Though, my time sense is telling me this is all a fixed point...
Meaning I need to tread carefully...

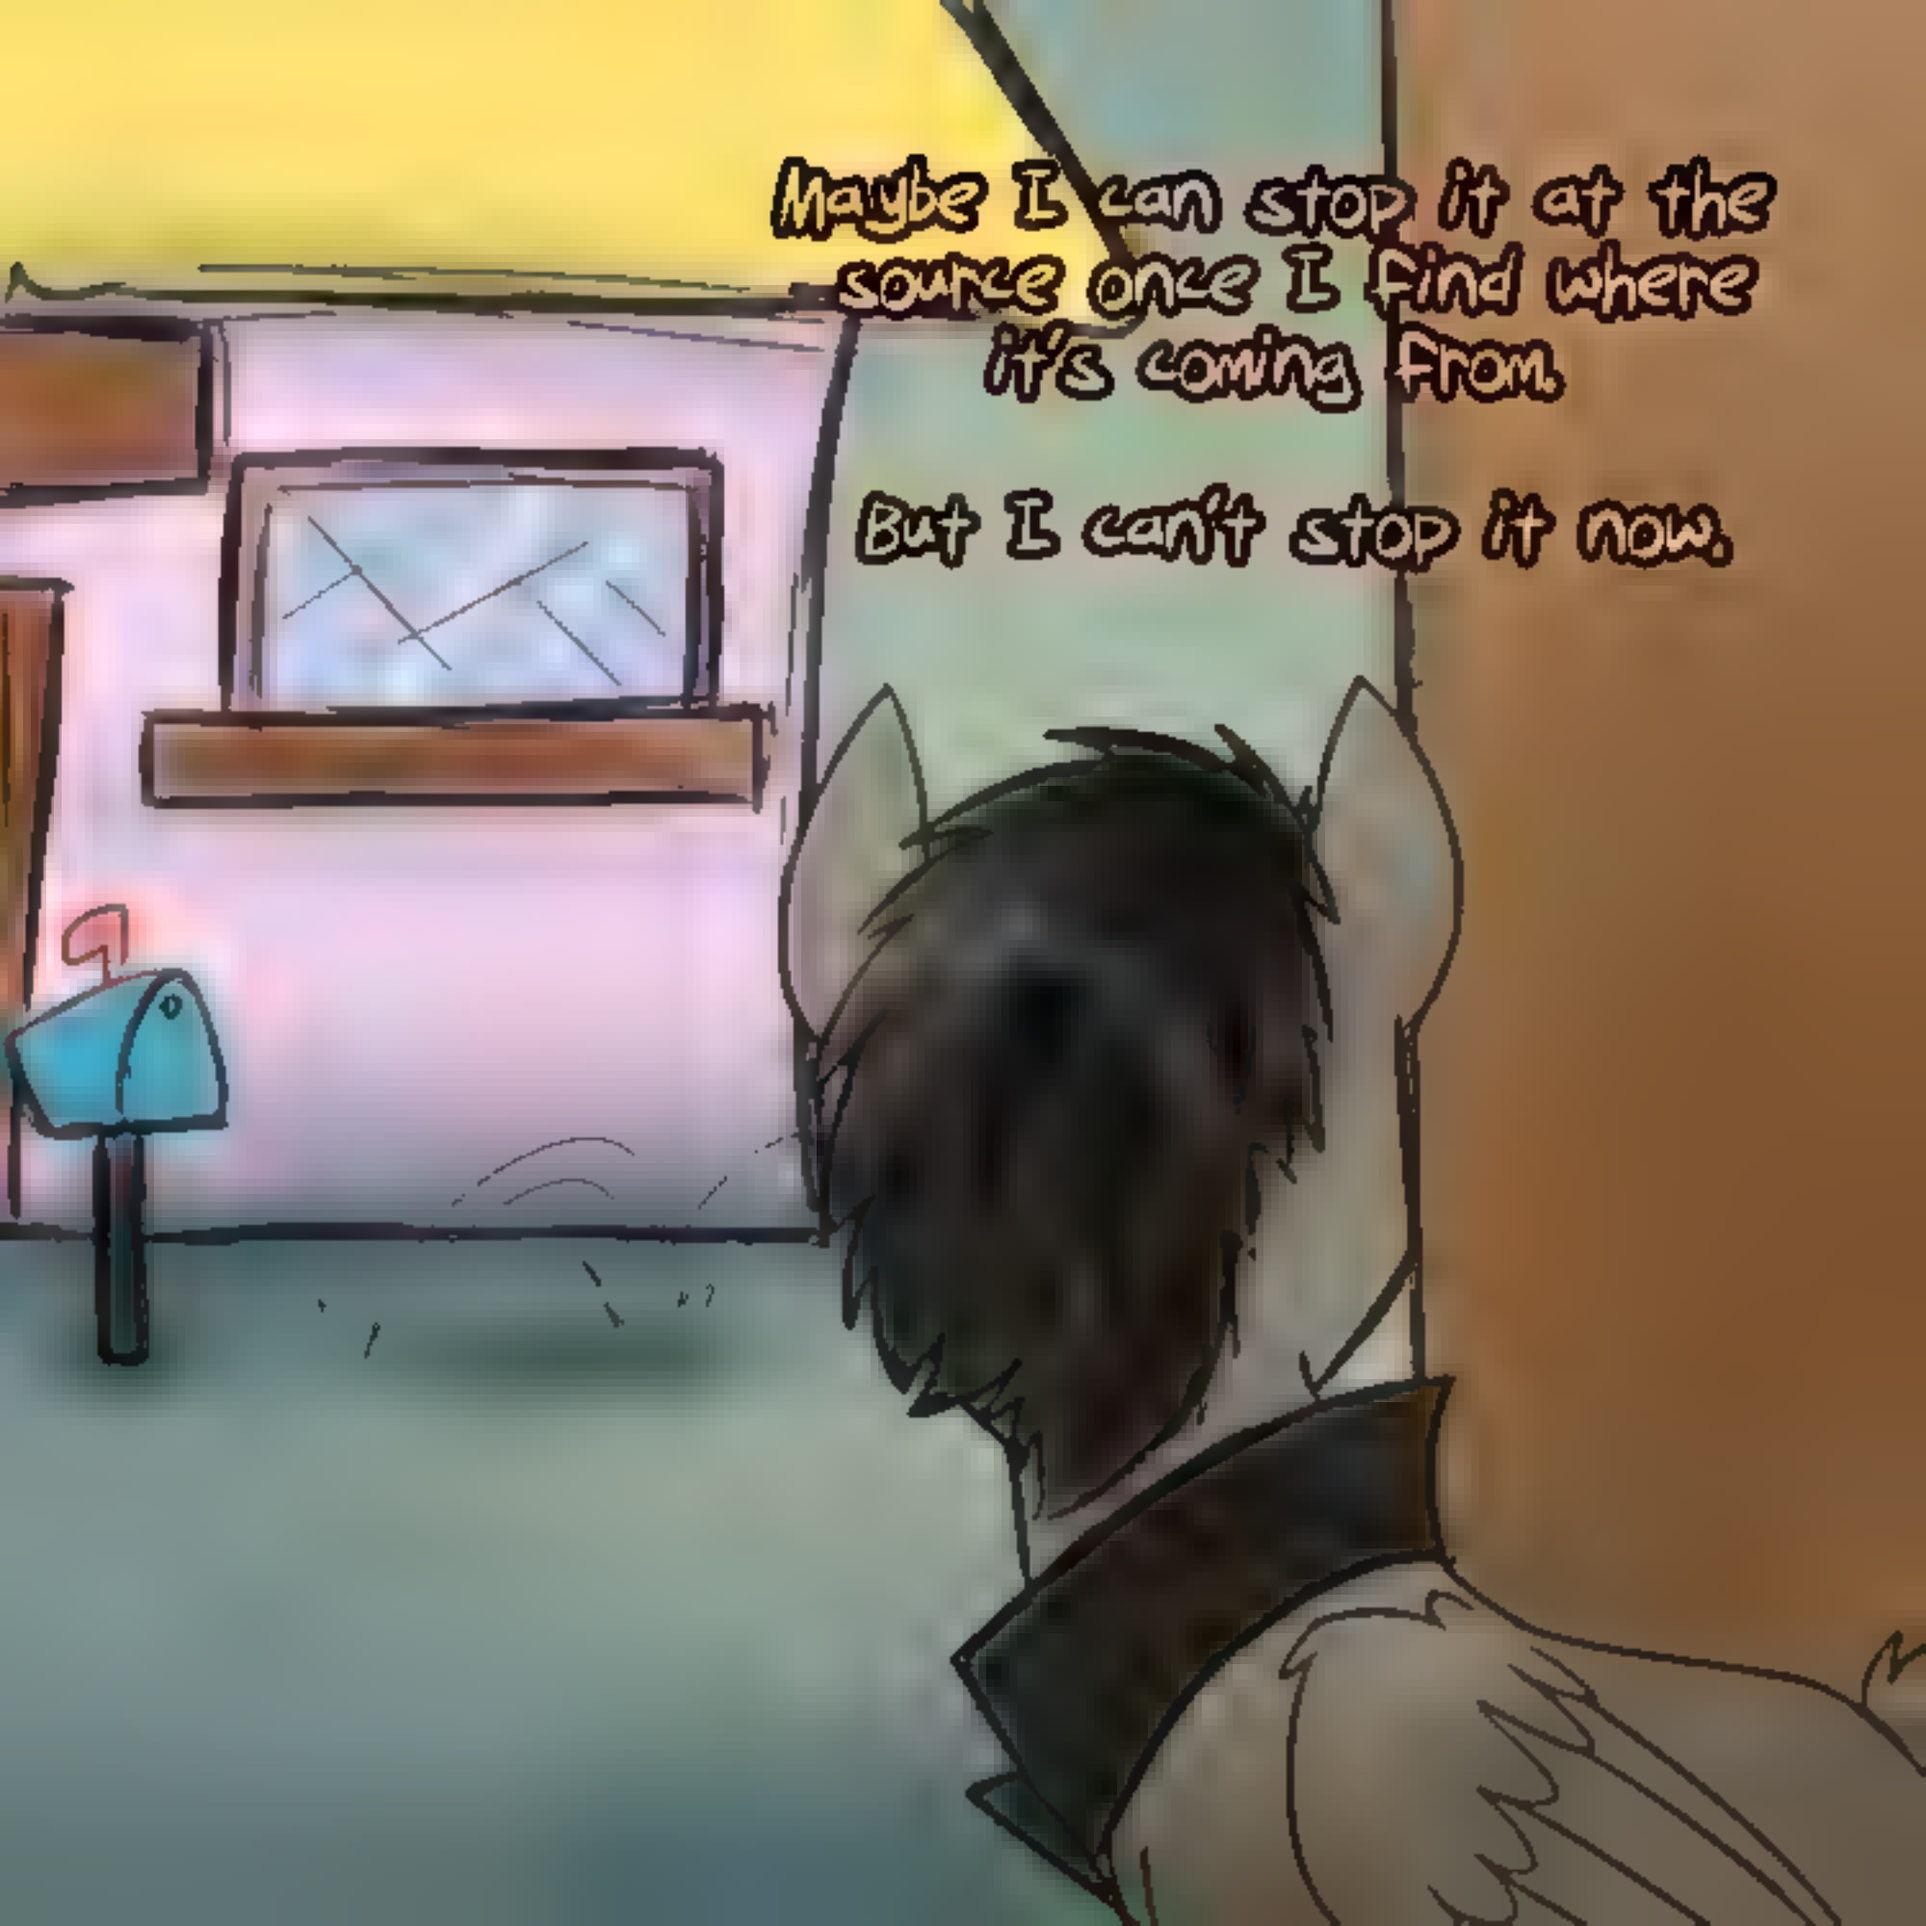
Could you intervene? Could you save Rainbow Dash's life? Time can be rewritten, can it not?

featmooncheese said

You should look into finding out why and how Pinkie Pie killed rainbow. If possible you could stop the murder before it even gets into motion

You cannot stop b eeds that a ready happened beca Jse they are now a part of your personal timeline P nkie k l ng Dash has to happen beca Jse you ve already w tnessed ts effects The un verse w l just find some way to do t aga n In other words, you cannot stop a past event only alter some e ements but bring the same outcome
Exactly, all I can do is observe right now and try to understand where this bleed came from.



Maybe I can stop it at the source once I find where it's coming from.
But I can't stop it now.

Maybe she hasn't started her murders at all yet...?
This is really strange...
She seems perfectly fine.

Erh, right... That was probably my fault.... Still! Coming all this way for me? I doubt that.
How would she even know I'd be here?

Wa twaitwait Did you meet Octavia before or after Pinkie went all Sweeny Todd?

Ah, right, you lot still get confused about time travel...

All the times I've met her have been before this point in time.

Just an FY Doctor Pinkie might be aware of us she's got something called a "Pinkie sense" and it makes her aware of things nopony else is giving her a sort of precognitive extrasensory ability Not terribly precise but it IS there.
I hope you realize Pinkie can "Break the 4th Wall" so she MIGHT be able to hear us Just sayin'

Alright, alright, alright! I get it already!
It's not like I asked the damn woman to get herself in danger you know!

answer-human-born-and-red-human said

Seeing Octavia in a fixed point, this should end well for you. How will you handle this?

Pinkie's the one who feels fixed, not Octavia. I have no idea what's supposed to happen to her, but I know what will happen to Pinkie.

[redacted] said
Can you please explain how a poinnt can be fixed? I know you've probably gotten this question a lot but I don't understand anyone's logic on this point Thanks!
If time was a piece of paper, fixed points would be stapled. Yanking out the staples will tear the paper. They're just points in time that are anchored and not meant to be changed, usually large scale events that make history.

Run Doctor! Or Sugar Cube Corner will have a new taste of cupcakes taste of Octav alll
I'm really not in a running mood. She said I was 'invited' so I have a feeling she wont start without me.

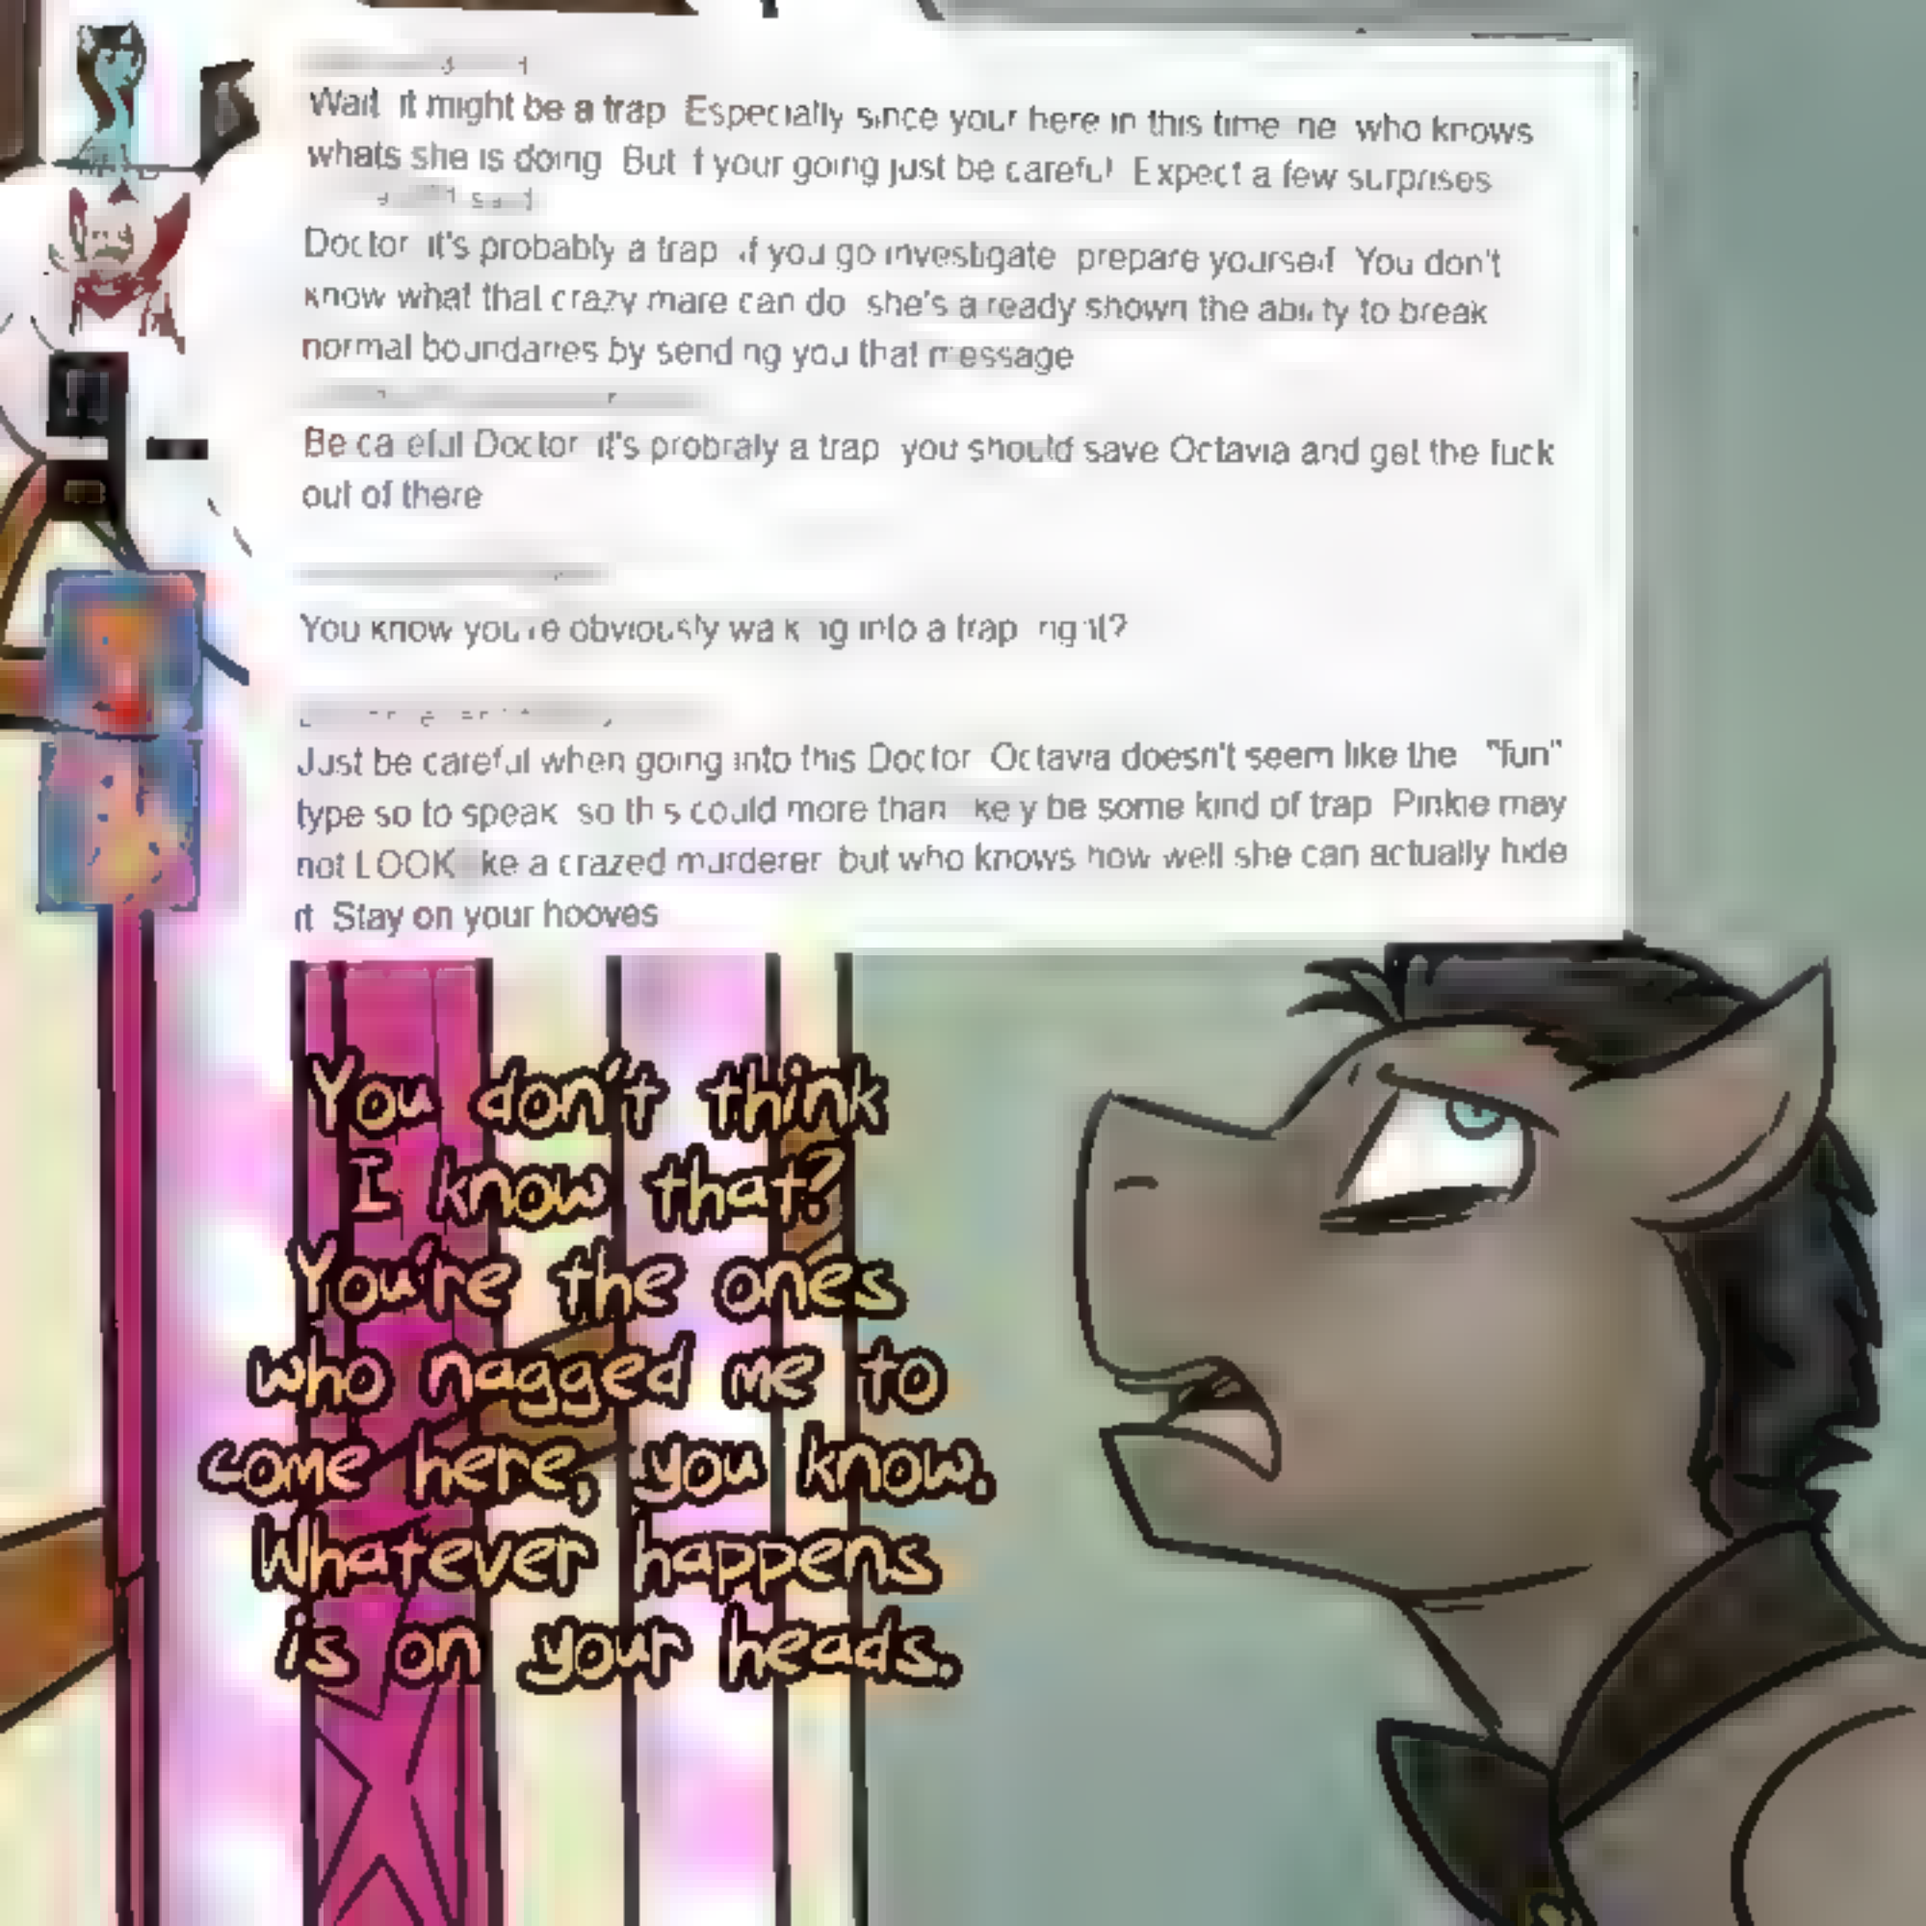
Wait it might be a trap Especially since your here in this time ne who knows whats she is doing But f your going just be careful Expect a few surprises

Doctor it's probably a trap if you go investigate prepare yourself You don't know what that crazy mare can do she's a ready shown the abi ty to break normal boundaries by send ng you that message

Be ca eful Doctor it's probaly a trap you should save Octavia and get the fuck out of there

You know you're obviously wa k ng into a trap ng it?

Just be careful when going into this Doctor Octavia doesn't seem like the "fun" type so to speak so th s could more than ke y be some kind of trap Pinkie may not LOOK ke a crazed murderer but who knows how well she can actually hide it Stay on your hooves



So Doc how are we gonna approach this? You can casually go to this party and pretend you know nothing is up but this could all be a trap Or you can sneak into Sugarcube Corner get Octavia and out and flee without getting caught but honestly that's near impossible when Pinkie is in the equation Either way you gotta prevent a potential casualty from happening if you can
I doubt sneaking is an option, she knows I'll show up.
So I'll just need to keep my wits about me.

I would definitely approach this situation with caution. This was the beginning of the end. Not only is Octavia involved, but so is a murderous Pinkie. It's a really bad combination any way you look at it.
Just a second doc. I do not trust pinkie. If you don't want a murder case of octavia on your hands I suggest you go to pinkies ready for anything. And when I mean anything I really mean anything doc Coast seems clear so far...

COME ON BACK
TWIGLIT SPORKLE
I HAVE A SUUUURPRIIISE!

This had taken place just after my visit with the Zebras and before I had met the girls. I set the TARDIS to a random time and locked the co-ordinates to Equestria and hit the random button.

The TARDIS touched down in colorful woodlands, filled to the brim with magic and life.

The air was even more pure than the air at the very tip top of the mountains of Gallifrey during the times of peace in my childhood.

I made my way through the woods, taking samples of the plants and a few of the animals there.

Asshole!

Hrrr

...Nothing big, just a bit of fur here and there, they were too gentle to be wild and I didn't want to upset their caretakers.

During those few hours I spent gathering samples I could hear some rustling leaves and what I can only describe as children giggling behind me.

I made my way deeper into the bush, encountering new plants that I had never seen before. The plants I found were strange, blue, and readings suggested toxic levels of magic.

I avoided the patch and made my way towards a clearing.

In the middle of the clearing was a large circle of small blue mushrooms.

The air was heavy with magic, almost to the point of being able to swim through it.

SHRIEK!
R-Rainbow?!
No...!
No, this can't be-
W-why!?
Aww, don't be blue, there's plenty of room for you!
Hey, I rhymed! Heehee!!

Come on girls, it's time for fun~ FUN~ FUN~!!
